She would make herself and her girls matching outfits. It would get quite embarrassing when the girls started high school. She worked hard, side by side with her husband of 60 years on their vegetable farm It was hard work, but at the end of the day, she always found time to sprinkle glitter and sew. She loved to dance the Polka, she always said she was "Never to pooped to Polka!" Her house was always open to everyone anytime they wanted to visit and they did visit a lot. Alice loved her family more than anything and will be forever loved and always missed by all those she sadly leaves behind.

“ I met Alice when they moved to Canon City. Mary took me to her home one afternoon after school to meet her parents and they welcomed me with open arms. Alice was the BEST cook ever! I'd never tasted food like that before. Well needless to say, I was there a lot for dinner time. Alice always had an extra plate! I remember Alice and Mary, showing me how to make cheese balls, and make candy, and other goodies at Christmas. I remember her contagious laugh and wonderful sense of humor. She welcomed all into her home and loved her family unconditionally!

Rest in Peace Alice
