“ Little Lilah Bear, My sweet spiritual niece ☐

I will miss you so much! My heart hurts with the thought of never hearing your precious little giggle again. Or seeing that beautiful smile light up the room. I thank God for all the years Ive had the privilege to know you. I love you soooo much. I find peace knowing that your in Heaven with Jesus. I know there is no more pain or sorrow and the love you have always searched for has been found in the presence of God. Your legacy will stand firm on the promises of God because we will keep your memory alive here on earth. I'm gonna miss you so much and I will cherish our little talks as I did cool designs on your hair. I'll always remember us playing with your hundreds of Shopkins laughing so hard. I smile thinking about the time you wanted to teach me to be a ballerina 😭 You truly believed a 300lb women could spin on one toe 😭😭. I'll never forget the serious conversations we had as you got older, especially arguing about which brand of eyelashes were better! You were so nervous to go to middle school because you were worried about the drama yet you have an army of girls that love you so much. Your shy yet outgoing personality which impacted everyone around you. The quality I loved most about you is that you were a go getter and you were never the type of girl to take no for an awnser. You knew what you wanted and you were not afraid to go after it. You were loyal and truly down for your family. You truly took a piece of my heart with you to heaven but I can't wait to see you when I get there I love you Delilah ❤️❤️❤️❤️❤️
