“ I remember a time where me and Elyjah first beat the origins Easter egg for black ops 3 we were so happy on our 3rd attempt at like 4 in the morning we tried again for 1 attempt the morning of the 15th of June we failed. sadly I will never play with my brother again on any game that map and game will forever be most thankful for I beat the Easter egg solo a week later sometimes I feel as though he gives me his expertise in those Easter eggs as I've never been good enough to do them alone he must have sent me his genuine love for the game.
