“ I covered Jim when he was a county commissioner and he was one of the most decent, genuine people I ever met in Pueblo. His son was a close friend of my son's and Bryan was also just a good, decent person. MY condolences to the family.

“ Jim and I went to seminary together and we would get dropped off at school before the students started coming, there were a couple others with us. I don't know if I joined the church before Jim or not but I know he loved being at everything there was. In those days the schedule was so different, priesthood was early morning, then Sunday School and Sacrament was in the early evening. My dad would head to priesthood in his Volkswagen and look for Jim on the highway as he jumped the fence to walk to church, dad usually always saw him and gave him a ride. There wasn't a person dad didn't make friends with and Jim was one that was his friend. Lots of memory's with Jim and Robin, Jim will be greatly missed but we know he is no longer suffering, and Robin and Jim will be united for eternity one day. Our condolences to Robin and all of the family. May Heavenly Father wrap his loving arms around all of you!
