“ Jane was one of the kindest ladies I have known. She always thought of others before herself and cared deeply for her family. Jane was a neighbor of ours, living close to us in the same condominium complex. Jane and I attended "Journey" church together in a nearby neighborhood, as we all know she was not one much for driving so I was always more than happy to pick her up and drive her to church. We shared a passion for cooking and often exchanged recipes and cookbooks. Of course, she was a much better and experienced cook than I. In fact, my son Christian loved eating at her house often especially her curry soup and other curry dishes. I regret not having taken the time to learn how to sew from her although she graciously offered many times. I always enjoyed listening to her stories about the years she worked in Denver at the fur shop and seeing all the furs she kept in her closet she had sewed herself. They were all absolutely beautiful! She was my dearest and closest friend here in Northern Colorado and she will be greatly missed, ALWAYS. We had grown so close to her and her grandchildren Sonya and Mickey over the years, my son Christian often referred to her as his "second grandma." We love you Jane and try to find comfort in all that you taught us about kindness and the importance of family and that you are now with more of your family and Gods angels in heaven.

We love you ALWAYS,

“ Thoughts and prayers with the Lobato and extended family. Jane is my first cousin. Her dad (George and my mom, Sophie) were brother and sister. Unfortunately over the years we lost contact with her and the rest of the family. I was able to spend some time with her and the rest of the family at George's viewing last year. We were able to catch up some and exchanged phone numbers with the intent of getting together in the future. As happens so many times we get distracted with everything that goes on in our lives and never take the time to do that. I'm really sorry for that.

While I never had experiences with Jane and her siblings, one of my fondest memories is when, as a young kid, I had an opportunity to spend a few weeks with George and her mom, Mimiko, at their home in Long Beach. George had just gotten stationed there and they invited me out for a visit. It was one of my most enjoyable experiences. George took me on tours of ships docked in the harbor and even got me a part-time job setting pins at the bowling alley in the service club where he worked. I wish I would have taken the time to share some of my other experiences with the family.

She mentioned she was having some difficulties healthwise, and I know she is now with the angels looking over all of us.

“ Hello I want to express my condolences to Jane's family. Jane and I are cousins, my mother Patsy Gonzales Montoya and Jane's father George were first cousins. Jane and I graduated together at Primero High School. Years ago we talked on the phone just catching up. We ran into each other on the 16th Street Mall when she worked at Lloyd's Furs. That was some time ago. Prayers for your family, may Jane rest in peace. She will be missed. Dolores Montoya Martinez.

Jane, if there's anything that I learned from you it's tolerance and patience. You always had the ability to let things roll off your back. I've learned a lot of behaviors from you that as I grow older I want to incorporate into my being. You were always available to talk, give advice, always with a laugh or chuckle. I've always gotten great counsel from you and we had many, many, great talks about everything especially our dreams. I love you big Sis !!! We already miss you.
