

Joseph John Corsentino

February 17, 1935 - February 9, 2024

Joseph John (Butch) Corsentino, 88, of Pueblo, Colorado passed away February 9, 2024. He was preceded in death by his wife, Delphine Corsentino; parents, John and Josephine Corsentino; and sister Lenore Dissler. Butch is survived by his children, Donna (Don) Toller, Lori (Dean) Silva and Ron (Eric Koehler) Corsentino; grandchildren, Brandon (Melissa) Toller, Brittany (Craig) Marshall and Jason (Jeni Skalko) McGraw; 6 greatgrandchildren; sister-in-law, Phyllis (Bob) Balich; numerous extended family and friends. Butch was born and grew up on the family dairy farm on Highway 10 East of Walsenburg. Butch met his beloved wife, Delphine, at St. Mary's High School. Butch and Delphine lived on the family farm in Walsenburg until they recently moved to Pueblo. They were married for 69 years. Butch was obsessed with cattle, farming, 4H, cowboy shows and football. And let's not forget, he was the expert in irritation water. Those that knew Butch know that he loved to talk and never met a stranger. He enjoyed going to coffee and visiting with all his friends. Butch will be forever remembered and loved. May he and our mom rest in peace.

“ - Butch and Delphine kept my father busy when he needed some extra work, my dad was proud to have known them. When i was younger my brother and i were always welcomed with open arm to hang out at the ranch as my father would help out butch and his wife as needed. My father kept in contact with Butch over the years, later they helped my father get a job that he loved prior to my father passing away in 2022, to truly show their love and support they were at his services. Grateful to have known such wonderful people. Rest in paradise 🙏
❤️ Thank you for being so good to my dad.

“ Rest in peace, Uncle Butch. No more pains in your back; no more concerns about rainfall and bringing in the hay. Thank you to you and Aunt Delphine for always making me feel welcome at The Ranch. Your niece, Keli
