“ To my dear friends the Bernal family,
I give my condolences to you all. The book of Ecclesiastics reminds us there is a season for everything and the season of the loss of a loved one is one of the hardest that we go through in life here on earth. But please take heart, Julian did not leave this earth without touching, blessing, and showing honor as a young man, husband, son and father to those he leaves behind. Julian was a young man full of promise, endurance, and zeal. The Lord blessed him with so many loved ones and was given the beautiful love of two families who will always call him son, brother, nephew, and grandson. He will forever be remembered.

Lord,

Thank you that there is no doubt that you are present with this family as they release Julian's spirit back you. Lord bring supernatural comfort to their souls during this time of sorrow. Uphold them all with your strength and reign peace over their hearts.

Remember the promises He speaks...

Jesus you said, "Blessed are those who mourn for they will be comforted".

He also reminds us that to be absent from this world, is to be present with the Lord.

Take care, and God bless you all.

Always a friend, Natasha Padilla
