Our son, We watched you come into this world just to have you taken away.

That helpless feeling watching you go will haunt us every day.

We were ready to welcome you into our arms, with forever lasting love.

But God has bigger plans for you, far away and up above.

To be Mommy's little angel and keep her safe wherever she goes.

I, my son will smile upon your blessing, knowing your

n a better place, kept from earth's sorrows

Wish we could have heard your laugh, watched you grow and watched you play.

Now God protects you in Heaven until we meet another day.

Kept in our hearts forever,

Mommy and Dad
