“ I went to middle school with Leo, and shared quite a few classes with him. When I first came to the school Leo was one of the first people I met. He pretty obviously stood out with his witty sense of humor, sarcasm, and larger than life smile. I looked forward to getting on the bus each day, arriving at the classes we shared or catching him around the neighborhood. There was never, ever a dull moment around Leo. I won't ever forget the tears, the cheek and tummy aches from laughing at Leo. He brightened the world around him. What a blessing it was to know Leo ♡ RIP

“ Leo was one of the coolest, funniest, well liked dude around. Always sported a smile. We all have so many memories with Leo. One great memory that we will always cherish...Leo, my parents, my brother and myself we went to a Los Lonley Brothers concert in Springs. We sang, danced and flat out had a awesome time. He was so grateful to go. He said thank you so many times. That was just the kind of gentleman he was. Until we meet again. Heaven gained one heck of an Angel. Now his family has one heck of a Guardian Angel!

“ Back in 8th grade Leo and I had a science project due. We were to explain the body of a cell. Leo came up with the idea to shoot a "COPS" like video of him as a police officer and myself as the criminal who stole a cell. Basically at the end of the chase scene he catches me only to find out that I stole a cell phone, not a cell. Leo then goes on to explain what a cell is. Then, just because Leo was a funny guy he found a long wig which he put on and pretended to be the woman who distracted the cop and allowed me to get away. He looked just like Liani haha it was one of the funniest moments of middle school and I owe those good memories all to Leo. Oh by the way we got an A on the project.

Rest in peace Leo, buddy.
