“ My aunt Lorraine was only 2 years older than me, as the oldest niece in our Gallegos family a lot of my aunts and uncles were just having children my kids age. We lived in California and had such wonderful memories visiting our Colorado family in the summer. In my teenage years I would walk to the High Chaparral for Aunt Lorraine's break and she would always buy me a pepsi from the vending machine and sit and talk before she went back to work. As time went on, our visits to Colorado included my kids and husband. One time we were there for my daughter's 7th bday. Melissa my daughter, told Aunt Lorraine it was her birthday and she immediately went into party mode. My aunt said "come back at 5:00 I have something special for Missy". She threw my daughter a party, invited my younger cousins, decorated the living room with balloons and made enchiladas, and even had time to buy gifts. She did something so special and kind and my daughter never forgot it. My Aunt Lorraine truly loved her nieces and nephews and would do anything for them. She was a very special person who loved her family.
