“ What an honor it was to be a friend of Marie's. She taught me strength and perseverance. She worked hard to help support her family sometimes more than one job at a time. She did what she could to make a good life for herself and her boys never needing much for herself. She was determined to make a situation have a good outcome and trying to beat cancer was on that list. Marie never asked why her ... but continued to fight each and everyday. I admire the person she was and she will always have a place in my heart as once you were her friend you would be a friend forever. Marie you were loved and now you are missed but your smile still warms my heart.

I was blessed to have known Marie and called her my Tia. She was one tough cookie and taught me a lot. We had a lot of good times, and she could always make me laugh when I was in a bad mood. All though she was a very private person, we shared many likeness in our lives and relatable stories. I will cherish all the memories I have with her. You will forever be missed Marie my Tia!!
