“ Mario will be missed. He and I were pretty good friends throughout grade school & high school. We practiced our trumpets together, marched in the high school band, and worked on all the latest Beatles songs. He loved his guitar. We had wonderful times riding around and the rancho. We double dated a few times. Those were great days. After high school, we would get together once in a while. I know he will be missed by his family, friends and classmates. He was a wonderful person.
