“ Sitting outside watching the fireworks and missing you so much. I miss you everyday 😭 it hurts so much to know you're never coming back. I remember we thought you were gonna have TJ on the 4th of July but he waited a few extra days. I miss the kids so much. I just want to be apart if their lives. I missed out on watching them grow up. I just wish they knew how much I love and miss them and that I did try to be apart of their lives. Anyway I was just sad and missing you and the kids. I just wanted to say I love you. Happy 4th of July I know you're loving the purple and pink artillery shells. You always loved those fireworks 🌟❤️

“ With each day that passes it gets more difficult for me. Last night I struggled trying to put the boxes for your babies together. I just broke out in tears thinking of the day I will have to give those to them and imagining the hurt in their eyes because they didn't truly get to say goodbye to you. All they have left of you is those boxes and me. You were so proud of your kids and now you will never be apart again. I know you're always with them, that's where you always wanted to be. You'll never miss out on anything and you'll be there every step of the way through their lives. I know you're watching them from heaven. I love and miss you with all of my heart sissy. Not a day goes by that I don't think of you or cry. The day you left you took a huge piece of me with you. Happy mother's day in heaven my beautiful angel. Love always your sissy Kim

I want you to know how sorry I am if I ever did anything to hurt you, that was never ever my intention. I would never hurt you or your brother on purpose and I hope you guys know that. When you both get a little older we'll have to talk about alot of stuff. I will answer any and all questions you guys may have honestly. I would never keep anything from the 2 of you. I'm so sorry to you and brother that you lost your mom....im sorry you guys didnt get to go to her funeral and say your goodbyes to her. I wish you guys would have been able to go. But i didn't forget about you guys....i have these boxes with stuff from her funeral...like dried flowers, memorial cards, a candle, a necklace with her ashes inside, crosses from the funeral, a flash drive with the songs that were played and a slide show with tons of pictures, i have her fingerprints and locks of her hair. There is also a dvd of her actual funeral service. I will give you each your box when you are ready for them. If you ever want to see her service anytime soon you can find it on youtube. You just type in mia cordova funeral service and it should pop up. Hita, i Just hope and pray you guys know your mom loved you both with all of her heart and soul. She thought about you guys every day and she did try to have contact with you guys but things didn't work out that way. She never stopped loving you guys. She had a hard time being away from you guys. That tore her up every day. She never meant for life to turn out the way it did. One day I will explain everything to you guys if that's what you want. I'm so grateful that you reached out to me in some way. I've been hoping and praying I'd hear from you and brother. What made you think about your mom and me? I'm just so happy you did. Hi Kim, I'm at a loss for words.
I can't begin to imagine how you might feel.
I know I was lost after my baby brother passed away a couple of years ago, and the pain and feelings of loss and regret are still there for me and I imagine always will be to some degree.
Mia was a wonderfully sweet, funny, kind girl that was just too pure at heart and good natured for this world.
She always looked like a little angel, so it's only natural that she has now become one.
And she may no longer be with us on this plane of existence, but she'll continue to watch over her little "big" sister and make her presence known from time to time.
Trust me, she'll never be completely gone for you.

KI

Aww, Daniel you have me in tears 😭. Thank you soo much for taking the time to send this. I really appreciate it. Yes I don't think those feelings will ever truly go away. I still feel that way with my parents and it's been years since they've been gone. You just learn to live with it and you have days that are more difficult than others. I agree my sister was a very special young woman, it's just so hard without her. You know how she and I felt about one another. As long as I'm breathing and her kids are too apart of her will always be here. She's in a better place and I know she's with our parents and she's finally safe. No more pain and suffering. Thank you for all of your kind words about her. That's the stuff I want people to remember her for. My prayers are with you. I know I've thanked you before for trying to help her but again thank you. She literally had no one out there and you tried to make sure she was safe and tried to help her as much as you could. You're a great person.
