“ My name is Jay! I'm a friend of Alejandra's her daughter. Sharing one memory of Michelle is hard because being around her even knowing her you make a lot of them, Michelle was a beautiful person to be around.

In 2022 my father passed away and life got the best of me which led me to become homeless, Michelle didn't hesitate to help me in the way she could which was letting me stay in her home. One memory that kept replaying in my head was January 7th 2023 my birthday none of my family were speaking to me which led me to feel alone. I was getting ready for bed and Michelle comes in my room with one birthday candle in a cupcake and started singing happy birthday to me! One thing I can say is Michelle was a very loving person to her family but what I realized that day was she had love for me and I'm not even her family. I will forever love and cherish the memories I made with Michelle. □
