

Miles B. Mulloy

March 19, 2020

Miles B. Mulloy, (artist formally known as Robert O. Goff Jr.) died March 19, 2020 at his home in Pueblo, Colorado. He will be buried in Pikes Peak National Cemetery with honors once the virus band has been lifted. Miles is preceded in death by both parents; a nephew; sister and a niece. He is survived by three brothers; three sisters; fourteen nieces and nephews; forty-two great nieces and nephews; two great-great nieces. Raised in Oklahoma, Miles was a US Marine Corp, Vietnam combat veteran, master carpenter, musician, artist, song writer and a RR Engineer for 20 years. He had a pilots license and flew Ultra lights, flying once over Mt. St. Helens after the explosion. He was also a master sharpshooter, a gnarly old man and in love with only one woman.

Tribute Wall

MR

“ Sorry, to hear about the loss of Miles. I never met him, but did know him through Ancestry.com and his cousin, Jean.
Mary O'Dea Runyon

Mary O'Dea Runyon - May 04, 2020 at 12:02 PM

JE

Love you Mary!

Jean - March 31, 2023 at 04:43 PM

JL

“ Rest in Peace dear Miles, RIP.

Jean Lewis - April 27, 2020 at 04:36 PM