Nick DeLeon, Jr. left this earth peacefully on the morning of January 11, 2022. Nick, a life-long Puebloan was born April 11, 1928, to Nicholas and Guadalupe (Santos) DeLeon. He was their 6th son in a family of nine children. Nick grew up during the depression on Currie Street and valued hard work. He was employed at the CF & I for 44 years working in the Open Hearth, Wire Mill and Spike Mill Departments. Nick was a great father who loved and guided his children through life. Survived by daughter Diana (husband Manuel), son Dennis, son Donald, little brother Frank DeLeon, grandchildren Dawn and Robert (Sheri) Kavianian and great granddaughter Cassidy Kavianian. We cherish the memory posthumously of Nick's devoted wife, Paz Hurtado and first male son, Nicky. Nicky was an inspiration to brothers Dennis and Donald.

“ Dennis, I am not sure you'll remember me, as we were very good, close friends during high school, though you were definitely RED, while I was definitely all about the BLUE! Anyway, we have lost touch, sadly, but I have thought of you and your family often, especially when I stop at the Sonic across from your family's home. I still see your car parked there, and I remember all the fun we had. I just want to say that I am sorry to hear about your dad's passing. I remember your parents, and other family members of yours, so fondly. Like my daddy, yours was also one of those great men "they just don't make anymore." My deepest condolences to you and your siblings and extended family. What a long and beautiful life to celebrate. May you all embrace the loving memories in your hearts forever. Thoughts and prayers are with you, Dennis.

Sincerely,
Lois

“ Sending my deepest sympathy to Diane, Dennis, Donald and family. Will always remember Uncle Nick as a generous, loyal and hard working son, brother and father. I will smile when I remember how he used his older brothers birthdate to get a job at the steel mill at 15, how he liked to pick his own Pueblo chili at the farms even in his 90's, how he and his brothers and sisters worked hard together improving their homes and taking care of each family member, especially Grandma. Mostly, I will remember the smiles and the laughter at family gatherings back when the family was young and we were just kids.

*May he Rest In Peace, he will be missed.
Love, Donna*
