

Patricia Louise Montoya

August 27, 1956 - October 28, 2024

Patricia Louise Montoya, 68, passed away on October 28th, 2024 with her family by her side. Patricia was born August 27th, 1956 and lived her life in Pueblo, Colorado. She was preceded in death by her father; brother, Bobby; and niece, Ivanna. Patricia has one son, Eric Montoya whom she loved with all her heart. She worked as a waitress and baby sitter at a very young age and retired after over 40 years of working as a CNA and other medical duties. She loved the residents she took care of. Patricia loved all her family and was a very giving person to everyone. She enjoyed gambling in cripple creek, going to bingo and shopping not for herself, but to give to others. Her favorite singer was Whitney Houston. Patricia's life as an infant was saved by an unexpected home visit by 2 nuns who came to take the catholic census. Patricia was in her high chair when one nun approached and played with her. She suggested that Patricia be taken to the hospital immediately because she looked sick. She was taken to the hospital. Doctors found she had no blood and she required blood transfusions to save her life. Days later the nuns could not be found anywhere to be thanked and Mom was told by the priests that NO nuns whatsoever were assigned for the census that year. Mom truly believes it was divine intervention. Patricia will always be remembered by her kindness to all she came in contact with and will surely be missed.
