“ It is never easy to bid farewell to an extraordinary individual, but when it comes to someone like Sweet Pauline, it can be truly heartbreaking and challenging. An remarkable and beautiful woman who will always be revered as the Matriarch of the “Stockman’s of Pueblo” A woman of unwavering faith and strength who consistently guided and nurtured her exceptional family. Such an incredible Grandma to her grandchildren & great-grandchildren. The driving force behind her equally strong husband and the backbone of a successful family. Pauline holds a special place in my heart ❤️. She always welcomed me as part of the family. I am honored to have shared numerous cherished memories with her. All the way back to the early 80’s & 90s sharing limo rides, shopping & going out to lunches and being her private Hairstylist for a short time. Pauline's house was her castle, meticulously designed with everything in its place. The finest furniture and furnishings reflected her impeccable taste. She took immense pride in her home, just as it reflected in her beauty. Pauline always presented herself with elegance, her hair & makeup perfectly in place, beautiful inside & out. Her legacy extends far beyond her family; it is her strength, selflessness, and ability to transform & touch the deepest part of one's soul. I am blessed to have been a part of her life. My favorite memory is seeing her sitting with Mr. Stockman on the front porch, radiating a warm glow that shines from within and surrounds her. I will never forget that beautiful aura, never will I forget.

“ My beautiful Mommy, I miss you so much, already. I look out the window and remember all the sacrifices you made, for anyone who wanted to be in your presence. You were the best mother any child would have been blessed to have as a mother. Momma this isn't the end, it's just the beginning. We will all be together again.

Thank you for loving me unconditionally. I know I used to make you mad, but hey I would sit there looking at your mean eyes 🤪 Thank you for being the best grandmother and great-grandmother We will never let what you instilled in us go to waste. I love you... I keep hearing you tell us to BE STRONG! We are trying mom ❤️💜💖💖
