When I see this it made my heart so sad. Then I found it on the internet and my sadness grew deeper! It's been years since I had seen Tom and he actually kept in contact once in a while on Facebook. He was such a good little boy when he was younger and so funny he would make me laugh and I would just hug him. Thomas may you find your peace and happiness and know many people will miss you! You may not know how many hearts you have touched. Shine bright never forgotten.
