She is preceded in death by her parents, Judith Ann Eazor (Lundquist) and Walter Sienkiewicz, her niece Holly Ringo, and her cousin Jerry Issacs. Vanessa is survived by her husband Wayne Encinias and her five children; Jeremy (Evva), Ryan, Brianna, Trevor, and Savannah. “ Vanessa was one of my best friends in high school and beyond. Yesterday I went through a box of old letters and cards I had saved from friends and family and came across two letters my friend Vanessa sent me years ago. Today, I decided to look her up online to try to get a current address for her. Tears are rolling down my face as I write this. I'm so shocked at the loss of her. She was the sweetest, nicest person always, and a true friend. I remember doing homework together and she would help me with my math. We loved to listen to music together and would write down our favorite lyrics. My prayers and condolences go out to her family. She will be missed and I will always remember our friendship.

“ Vanessa was not only a wonderful person in her own right, but the most incredible Mother God ever created. To raise five children as well as she did is an inspiration to all of us parents. Her smile and sense of humor may have left us, but the love and values she place in her children will live on. I feel very lucky to have known her and hope her family finds peace in knowing how many hearts she touched. Rest in peace friend taken from us way to soon.

“ I was heartbroken to hear of Vanessa passing I could just not believe it my daughter Mariah and Savannah have been friends for years. One of the reasons I went to Wal-mart in Pueblo West was because I knew I would see Vanessa we usually always talked about the girls or sometimes if she was busy it was just a wave. Yesterday when I went to Wal-mart it was not the same I kept waiting for her to come around the corner. when I checked out the cashier and I cried the whole time. My heart hurts for her family.. She was truly a wonderful lady that will be missed by many.. Rest in peace Vanessa.
