“ Judy and I have known Will and Marie for many years. God bless you and your family. You always had projects going on and we often bumped into each other at the lumber yard. I miss the days when you worked at the Goodrich Aerospace and supervised your department You supervised my son and he always had good things to say about how you helped him learn his job. Seeing your happiness with your grand children was precious. Thank you for your service and your kindness.

“ Wilfred when I learned of your passing my heart sank and tears filled my eyes. I wondered why you being a good man would be taken while so many bad men remained. This world needs more men like you...kind, supportive and strong. RIP until we meet again.

“ Will was always smiling. I remember he would tease me because I was so easily fooled. He made work a better place with his presence. This world's gonna miss you my friend.
